CANDY

The Candy Store, a San Francisco-based confectioner, has things you didn't know you wanted: Peanut Butter Malt Balls that look like stones found on a magical beach. Birthday Cake Candy Bars, Gummi Fried Eggs, Buttercrunch Toffee Bites, Champagne Bubbles, Sour Powder-Filled Tennis Gumballs, French Marshmallow Ropes, and Rainbow Unicorn Tails. Can't decide? Go full retro with gum cigarettes, humongous jawbreakers, Zotz, or the $40 Blast From the Past Gift Box. Most candies $20 a pound; $10 flat-rate shipping; thecandystoresf.com

COFFEE AND TEA

Entrepreneur Emilio Baltodano, the founder of Brooklyn, New York's Eleva Coffee, wanted to be sure the beans he sold benefited the 40 small farmers who grew them, so he set up a system that went beyond fair-trade prices. Eleva's subscription Care Package program saves you up to 20 percent and raises money for schools in Peñas Blancas, Nicaragua. Medium-light, medium, and dark roast selections are available. Fab Four Sampler (makes 4 pots), $15; 12 oz. bags of coffee, $15–$16.50; shipping included; elevacoffee.com

Eager to try a new Earl Grey? Running out of rooibos? Check out the dizzying array of choices at Rishi Tea & Botanicals: black or green or white, loose leaf or sachet, immunity-building or cleansing, chai or matcha or botanical. Rishi also offers many organic options, teaware, and advice. Teaser samples, quarter-pound, and one-pound sizes available. Earl Grey (regular or lavender), $36 a pound; Ginger Lime Rooibos, $24 a pound; free shipping over $29; rishi-tea.com

COOKBOOKS (AND BOOKS)

The end of the year is always filled with cookbooks, like Ina Garten's Modern Comfort Food, to say nothing of gift books, thrillers, and more (page TK). Why not order them now through an independent store instead of a book behemoth? If you don't have a local bookstore you can support, Indiebooks.org lets you choose a particular store to support, while Bookshop.org awards a pool of earnings and 30 percent commissions to smaller stores that may be struggling. Both sites ship to your door. If audiobooks are more your style, consider Libro.fm, a platform that supports independent bookstores at prices comparable to those of Audible.com.

COOKIES

You may think you've tasted cookies that melt in your mouth, but you probably haven't had Found Market's
